Welcome to the Crash Course with CANS Civil Rights webinar

The purpose of this training is to educate schools and institutions on the USDA Civil Rights requirements and increase awareness of resources and information available to assist in carrying out Civil Rights responsibilities.

Since this is only a 30-minute webinar this training will not meet the annual civil rights training requirements because it does not cover all the necessary content for annual training.
Here are the topics that we will discuss during our webinar today. We will discuss all of them but will spend more time on some than others. Please be sure to ask questions if you have them at any time either by unmuting or putting questions in the chat box. Mikayla will be helping me today with monitoring the chat.

Schools and institutions receiving federal funds must follow Civil Rights regulations and policies. These regulations Direct sponsors on the proper procedures to follow so that benefits of Child Nutrition Programs are made available to all eligible persons in a non-discriminatory manner. All sponsors receiving federal money must implement Civil Rights requirements to be eligible for all Child Nutrition Programs. The Food and Nutrition Service instruction 113-1 is the Federal Regulation governing Civil Rights in the Child Nutrition Programs.
Civil rights refer to the rights of “personal liberty” guaranteed by the 13th and 14th Amendments to the US Constitution and Acts of Congress and to the fair and equitable treatment of all customers and employees. There are numerous civil rights acts and laws that were enacted over the course of the last 50 years and it began with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. This act led the way and addressed discrimination in relation to race, color, and national origin in programs and activities that receive federal financial assistance.
The goals of civil rights are:
1. To eliminate barriers that prevent or deter people from receiving benefits of a government-sponsored or funded program
2. To provide equitable treatment in the delivery of programs and services to all applicants, participants, and beneficiaries of a federal program
3. To ensure that all applicants and participants understand their rights and responsibilities
4. To show respect and dignity to all

What is discrimination?

DEFINITION:
Different treatment which makes a distinction of one person or a group of persons from others; either intentionally, by neglect, or by the actions or lack of actions based on....
There are 6 Protected classes for FNS Child Nutrition Programs:
- Race
- Color
- National Origin
- Age
- Sex
- Disability
All staff who work with Child Nutrition Programs must receive training on all aspects of civil rights compliance annually. Here is a list of the subject matter that the training must address.

- Specific subject matter:
  - Collection and use of data
  - Effective public notification systems
  - Compliant procedures
  - Compliance review techniques
  - Resolution of noncompliance
  - Requirements for reasonable accommodation of persons with disabilities
  - Requirements for language assistance
  - Conflict resolution
  - Customer service
  - Retain training records of civil rights training

New employees should be trained on Civil Rights requirements before participating in Program activities or within the first 30-days of hiring.

Training records need to be kept on file. Training records include the agenda, sign-in of staff who received the civil rights training, and presentation, if applicable.
All FNS assistance programs must include a public notification system.

The purpose of this system is to inform applicants, participants, and potentially-eligible persons of:
- program availability,
- program rights and responsibilities,
- the policy of nondiscrimination,
- the procedure for filing a complaint.

All FNS assistance programs must include a public notification system.

The purpose of this system is to inform applicants, participants, and potentially-eligible persons of:
- program availability,
- program rights and responsibilities,
- the policy of nondiscrimination and
- the procedure for filing a complaint.
State agency and/or Local Agency must:
- Prominently display the “And Justice for All” poster.
- Inform potentially-eligible persons, applicants, participants and grassroots organizations of programs or changes in programs.
- Convey the message of equal opportunity in all photos and other graphics that are used to provide program or program-related information.
- Provide appropriate information in alternative formats for persons with disabilities and in the appropriate languages for Limited English Proficiency (LEP) persons.

To notify the public, the state and/or local agency must:
- Prominently display the “And Justice for All” poster.
- Inform potentially-eligible persons, applicants, participants and grassroots organizations of programs or changes in programs.
- Convey the message of equal opportunity in all photos and other graphics that are used to provide program or program-related information.
- Provide appropriate information in alternative formats for persons with disabilities and in the appropriate languages for LEP persons.
At a minimum, the full Nondiscrimination Statement should be on:

- Application Form(s)
- Notification of Eligibility or Ineligibility
- Expiration of Certification Notification
- Discontinuance Notification
- Program (Home) Web Page
- Public Information materials including media

It does not have to be on menus that are sent home.

Use of our prototypes assures that the nondiscrimination statement is on everything it needs to be on.

If you are using a computer-developed prototype, be sure the statement is included. Work with the software company to get it updated.

If you notice the statement is missing from documents, please contact our office for clarification.
The Nondiscrimination Statement should be used as is. Do not move it into paragraph format.

You may shrink the spacing between the lines a little bit.

If the material is too small then “This institution is an equal opportunity provider”, must be included in a print size no smaller than the text.

Can be found in 21 Non-English Languages at https://www.fns.usda.gov/cr/fns-nondiscrimination-statement

All sites must display the poster in a prominent location for all to view.

Display in classrooms if students don’t visit the cafeteria.

Local reproduction is not authorized. USDA provides copies of poster to State agencies for distribution.

- Except during COVID (SP 24-2020 #6)
- Schools may prefer to copy posters and put one in each classroom, but that is not required.
It is required to collect and report the data on the actual number of children applying for free and reduced-price meals or free milk by ethnic/racial group. The local agency needs to develop a method for collecting this data. Methods include determination of the information by a school official through observation, personal knowledge or voluntary self identification by the applicant on their application. The agency may also use data or information collected by other federal or state agencies, (DOE, DSS, etc.) This information needs to be on file for 3 years and the Local agency needs to establish procedures to ensure that the information is made available to only authorized personnel.
The purpose of collecting Racial/Ethnic data is to find out how effective FNS programs are in reaching potentially eligible people and beneficiaries. Applicants should be assured that this information is used for statistical purposes only and has no effect on their eligibility criteria. The data should be collected at the point of application. Ensure that access to data is limited to authorized personnel.

If an applicant does not consent to the self-identification method, the individual taking the application will, through visual observation, determine the applicant’s race or ethnicity and mark the appropriate category.

Children are not to be surveyed.

State and local agencies should compare their participant data with potentially eligible persons within their service areas.

Conduct outreach as needed.

LEP (Limited English Proficiency) refers to Individuals who do not speak English as their primary language and who have a limited ability to read, speak, write, or understand English.

Applicants and participants cannot be asked to bring their own interpreters.

Children should not be used as interpreters.

Disability is defined as: Any person who has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities, has a record of such an impairment, or is regarded as having such an impairment.

To constitute a “disability” a condition must substantially limit a major life activity. A major life activity means functions such as caring for one’s self, performing manual tasks, walking, talking, seeing, hearing, speaking, eating, breathing, learning and working.

The Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008 (P.L. 110-325) impacts NSLP, SMP, SBP, CACFP and SFSP as it expands the definition of “disability”.

Major Life Activities now also include: “Major Bodily Functions”, such as “...function of the immune system,...digestive, bowel, bladder functions and reproductive systems”

Individuals who take mitigating measures to improve or control any of the conditions recognized as a disability, are still considered to have a disability and require an accommodation.
Federal regulations that govern diet modifications in child nutrition programs require sponsors to provide modifications to the standard meal for participants who are considered disabled and whose disability restricts their diets.

Each recipient shall serve special meals, at no extra charge, to students whose disability restricts their diet. Child nutrition programs are required to modify a participant with disabilities meals and snacks when supported by a statement signed by a licensed medical authority. This may include a doctor, a nurse practitioner, or a physician’s assistant.

Federal regulations permit modifications for other participants who are not disabled but it is not required.
Accommodations for children or adults with physical disabilities include accessibility to the cafeteria as well as access to the same meal choices as other students and the ability to be seated with other students. Examples include entrances and exits wide enough for a wheelchair, tables that accommodate a wheelchair, and accommodations so the child can access the serving line. Other examples include program aides that can help with feeding and adaptive tableware.

• At times, different or special treatment may actually be necessary in order to ensure effective aids, benefits, and services are adequate.
• Programs must permit service animals to accompany people with disabilities in all areas where the public is allowed to go.

Services shall be provided in the most integrated setting appropriate to the needs of the disabled individual. The school/agency is responsible for assisting disabled students where assistance is needed.
Noncompliance is a factual finding that any civil rights requirement as provided by federal and state law, regulation, policy, instruction or guideline is not being adhered to.

There are no minor or major categories of noncompliance. No matter the level or severity, noncompliance must be reported.

Some examples of non-compliance
• Denying an individual or household the opportunity to apply for program benefits or services.
• Or, providing services in a dissimilar manner.
• OR selecting program sites or facilities in a manner that denies an individual access to the program benefits, assistance, or services based on a protected class.
Complaints Of Discrimination

• A Civil Right complaint is a verbal or written allegation of discrimination that a Food and Nutrition Services program is administered or operated in a manner that results in disparate treatment or services being provided to persons or groups of persons because of their protected class.

• All civil rights complaints shall be accepted and forwarded to the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights. The complainant must file a complaint within 180 days of the alleged act of discrimination.

• Complaints may be written, verbal, or anonymous.

• Confidentiality is extremely important and must be maintained.
Complaint information should include:

Name, address, and telephone number or other means of contacting the person alleging discrimination;

The location and name of the organization or office that is accused of the discriminatory practices;

The nature of the incident or action or the aspect of program administration that led the person to allege discrimination;
The names, titles, and business addresses of persons who may have knowledge of the discriminatory action;

The date(s) during which the alleged discriminatory actions occurred, or if continuing, the duration of such actions; and

The basis for the alleged discrimination (race, color, national origin, age, sex, and/or disability).

Complaint information should also include:

The names, titles, and business addresses of persons who may have knowledge of the discriminatory action;

The date(s) during which the alleged discriminatory actions occurred, or if continuing, the duration of such actions; and

The basis for the alleged discrimination (race, color, national origin, age, sex, and/or disability).

Non-Discrimination Statement

In accordance with Federal civil rights law and U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) civil rights regulations and policies, the USDA, its Agencies, offices, and employees, and institutions participating in or administering USDA programs are prohibited from discriminating based on race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, or reprisal or retaliation for prior civil rights activity in any program or activity conducted or funded by USDA.

Persons with disabilities who require alternative means of communication for program information (e.g. Braille, large print, audiotape, American Sign Language, etc.), should contact the Agency (State or local) where they applied for benefits. Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or have speech disabilities may contact USDA through the Federal Relay Service at (800) 877-8339. Additionally, program information may be made available in languages other than English.

To file a program complaint of discrimination, complete the USDA Program Discrimination Complaint Form, (AD-3027) found online at: http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_cust.html, and at any USDA office, or write a letter addressed to USDA and provide in the letter all of the information requested in the form. To request a copy of the complaint form, call (866) 632-9992. Submit your completed form or letter to USDA by:

(1) Mail: U.S. Department of Agriculture
Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights
1400 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20250-9410;
(2) Fax: (202) 690-7442; or
