Relevance and Applications: How might the grade level expectation be applied at home, on the job or in a real-world, relevant context?

- We use illustrations to help us select books.
- Illustrations help us create meaning in the world around us.
- We connect with the characters and setting in the book and relate their experiences to our lives.
- We can learn life lessons from the theme in books.

Level 1

In grade-level texts, students should be able to

- Use minimal supporting evidence to make minimal inferences about few of the connections of illustrations and the words of text.
- Minimally compare and contrast few details of the central message, themes, settings, or plots included in texts written by the same author about the same characters.

Level 2

In grade-level texts, students should be able to

- Use partial supporting evidence to make partial inferences about the connections of illustrations and the words of text.
- Partially compare and contrast some details of the central message, themes, settings, or plots included in texts written by the same author about the same characters.

Level 3

In grade-level texts, students should be able to

- Use supporting evidence to make inferences about the connections of illustrations and the words of text.
- Compare and contrast, using analysis and synthesis, details of the central message, themes, settings, and plots included in texts written by the same author about the same characters.

Level 4

In grade-level and higher texts, students should be able to

- Use thorough supporting evidence to make thorough inferences about the connections of illustrations and the words of text.
- Thoroughly compare and contrast, using analysis and synthesis, complex details of the central message, themes, settings, and plots included in texts written by the same author about the same characters.
