Is Your School Responsible for the CTE-Comprehensive Local Needs Assessment?

Do you provide Career and Technical Education (CTE) courses at your school or multi-district*?

Yes →

You must participate in a CTE-CLNA for CTE program approval.

All multi-district member schools must participate in the CTE-CLNA

No ↓

Do you provide access for your students to CTE courses through another approved CTE program? (See approved program list here.)

this does not include DIAL, E-Learning, and Dual Credit. These are course providers that compliment local CTE programs.

No ↓

You are not required to participate in a CTE-CLNA.

You do not have approved CTE programs; your students are not earning CTE credit.

Yes ↓

Do you use federal Perkins funds to contribute to that provider in any way?

Yes →

No →

You are not required to participate in a CTE-CLNA.

Your students still earn CTE credit through an approved provider.

You still must submit a program application to document your students' access to approved CTE.