TRAINING COMPONENT – Curriculum Curation

To support teachers and administrators in the important work related to implementation of the Common Core standards, a statewide evaluation system and other critical pieces, Investing in Teachers includes a comprehensive professional development component.

During the 2012 legislative session, Gov. Dugaard proposed, and the Legislature approved, a one-time investment of $8.4 million over the next three years. These dollars will be used to offer targeted training and professional development opportunities. In general, teachers who participate in the various events will be paid a $125/day stipend for work done outside of regularly contracted hours. If work is done during regularly contracted time, the district will be reimbursed for a substitute teacher.

Curriculum Creation

Intent: Curriculum Curation Teams will design a blueprint for delivering the Common Core standards for each subject and each grade level. This blueprint will help teachers know what to teach when to teach it. The teams also will curate suggested resources to be used in conjunction with the blueprint.

Target: Teachers of English language arts and math

Goal: Make available to all ELA and math teachers blueprint and curated resources

Timeframe: Draft of the blueprint will be immediately available as Curation Teams complete their work; final product available summer 2013.
